

JON COHENCREATIVE TECHNOLOGIST & PERCUSSIONIST

Jon is a percussionist and creative technologist. As a percussionist, he has performed with the likes of Sean Jones and the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. His work has appeared with such organizations such as Kostume Kult and has been shown across the country. He also has a successful career as a software engineer, with innovations in software engineering practice being lectured on at prestigious conferences such as cppCon.

His current project, the Circuit Solarium, is an interactive, hybrid digital / virtual / physical stage which becomes part of the performance in order to create powerful moments of storytelling.